

Radcot to the 'Trout at Tadpole Bridge' (return the same way as you came)

Distance approx. 7½ miles

This walk starts and ends at Radcot.

From The Swan pub, cross the River Thames (the first bridge with traffic lights). Then immediately turn left, follow the sign for the Thames footpath, and walk downstream alongside the river.

After 1 mile, pass Radcot Lock. 300 yards beyond the lock is an arched wooden footbridge, Old Man's Bridge.

Continue past the footbridge, following the river downstream along the Thames Path. After 1½ miles, is Rushey Lock, continue following the Thames footpath for another mile to reach the main road and Tadpole Bridge where there is a public house, The Trout at Tadpole.

Return to Radcot the same way you came.

Disclaimer: This route is for guidance only, distances are approximate, and public footpath signs may or may not be clearly displayed. Walkers should be aware they may need to cross fields with livestock, climb stiles, and wear suitable clothing or footwear.